

Blue Ridge

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Never heard of Blue Ridge? You're not alone. Located in the northwest corner of Seattle, this tiny neighborhood is one of the most unknown and isolated neighborhoods in the city. Blue Ridge is bounded on the south by Northwest 100th Street; on the southeast by Holman Road Northwest, beyond which lies Ballard; on the east by Greenwood Avenue North, beyond which lies Bitter Lake; on the north by Carkeek Park; and on the west by Puget Sound. Blue Ridge was founded in 1927 by William E. Boeing.

From the onset, William planned for the Blue Ridge hillside community to be a 'residential park.' Today, Blue Ridge still provides that community feel that it did back then. Completely residential, the 200-acre neighborhood of roughly 450 homes offers breathtaking views of Puget Sound, and local access to a community club, a swimming pool, tennis courts, playfields, and a private beach.

Blue Ridge holds various community events throughout the year. Their Fourth of July parade and the December holiday period are two events worth noting.

The first residences to go up in Blue Ridge were five large brick homes and were specifically built for Boeing executives. These original homes are still standing today and are affectionately known by community residents as "the castles." The five original houses offered the most expansive views in the area and that's why William chose to build them there, along Blue Ridge Drive.

Parks & Recreation

BLUE RIDGE

Golden Gardens

8498 Seaview Ave NW

206.684.4075

87.8 acres

This popular park offers extraordinary views of Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains. A recent project restored two wetlands, established a short loop trail, and restored the northern beach. Golden Gardens offers strolls along a rugged coastline, hikes through forest trails, sunbathing on sandy beaches, fishing from a pier and a boat launch.
